Illinois Next in Political Limelight

Presidential Preference Primaries will be Held in State Next Tuesday

By HAROLD JACOBS

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) New York, April 7.—Illinois is the next hurdle in the obstacle race for the presidential nomination.

Preference primaries will be held there next Tuesday. Fifty-eight republicans and a like number of democratic candidates to the national conventions are affected.

Illinois has its own "favorite son" candidate. Republicans honor Governor Frank Lowden, nevertheless Major General Leonard Wood has invaded that state in a spirited campaign for its endorsement. The Wood organization bases its hope on the fact that Governor Lowden trailed the general badly in Michigan. Wood had conducted an equally strong drive for republican votes. The fight in Illinois is expected to be limited to these two, as Senator Hiram Johnson, who carried Michigan, and Herbert Hoover, who ran next to Lansing in Michigan have made no campaign there.

Neither the New York nor the Wisconsin primaries yesterday clarified the votes in two major parties. The delegates of both states are pledged. The New York republicans will expect to cast their vote on the first ballot for Nicholas M. Butler, president of the Columbia University. After that it is believed the delegation will "ride" without a winner. No one has attempted to claim the state's ninety democratic delegates. Governor Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey, Wm. McAdoo and Attorney General Palmer appeared to be equally popular.

Democratic Presidential Delegates Are Named

(United Press)

Democratic delegates named from the ninth district, were Mary C. McGregor of Detroit and J. W. Shellin of Hallock. The sixth district delegates named yesterday were E. W. Swenson of Foley and J. B. Galarneau of Altkin.

New York Elects Uninstructed Delegates to Conventions

(By United Press)

New York, April 7.—The regular republican slate for delegates at large and district delegates to the national convention were elected in yesterday's primaries, according to practically complete returns today. The democratic slate was chosen without opposition except for the Schenectady district, when Mayor George L. Dunn, former socialist, apparently defeated the old candidate. Both delegations are uninstructed.

Johnson Maintains Big Lead in Michigan

(By United Press)

Democratic Delegates Go Uninstructed

To the San Francisco Convention, and Will Vote Individually—Not as a Unit (By United Press)

Minneapolis, April 7.—Minnesota's twenty-four delegates to the democratic national convention at San Francisco will go uninstructed, even to voting as individuals.

The state convention late last night voted down a proposition to instruct the delegates to vote as a unit in the convention.

Fred Lynch, national committee-man, was elected the delegate at large along with Mrs. Peter Oleson of Cloquet, D. D. Daly of Minneapolis and Anton C. Weiss of Duluth. Three other women will be added with the Minnesota delegation—elected from various district caucuses.

Frank Day, of Fairmont, led a bitter attack on Fred Lynch, and charged him with having tried to "freeze out" Mrs. Oleson. Mrs. Oleson denied that any one had attempted to block her candidacy.

Socialist Mayor Re-elected in Milwaukee

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, April 7.—Daniel W. Hoan, socialist mayor was re-elected here yesterday, defeating Clifford Williams, city attorney on the non-partisan ticket by about 3,000.

(By United Press)

Chicago, April 7.—Mayor Wm. Hale Thompson, republican, was an overwhelming victor today in the count of yesterday's aldermanic election. The elections were nonpartisan, but the issue was between a local reform party and Thompson. The municipal party league recommended election of certain candidates, while Thompson supported the democrats. Only one of the league candidates was elected.

HENRY WOOD,

Predict Defeat of Military Training

(By United Press)

Washington, April 7.—Opponents of universal military training today predicted defeat of the army reorganization bill in the senate by a margin of five votes.

Ten to twelve republicans will join with the democrats to defeat the Wadsworth measure which carries universal training plan, Senator Capper, Kansas republican, said today Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, predicted that not over three or four democrats would support the bill.

Opponents Fire First Shot

Washington, April 7.—Opponents of universal military training in the senate today fired the first shot in the barrage of speeches they have planned to hurl at that section of the army reorganization bill.

Senator Knute Nelson, Minnesota republican, was the first speaker.

"The system of training provided for in this bill is utterly contrary to the spirit of the American constitution," he declared.

"We don't want to become a military nation."

Nelson declared the bill would create an army of "college campus soldiers."

Meat Prices Will Soar

Because of the Switchmen's Strike, Think Packers—Strike Unauthorized (United Press)

Chicago, April 7.—Meat and food prices will soar to a higher value as a result of the strike of several thousand switchmen on railroads here, packers predicted today. They said that live stock receipts had been cut from 60,000 daily to less than 10,000. The receipts yesterday amounted to 8,000 as compared with 54,000 two weeks ago. The strike has thrown 19,000 employees in the stock yards out of work.

One thousand non-union "strike breakers" were working in place of the striking switchmen. Several hundred more were expected to join the men in view of an ultimatum of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who threatened expulsion of the strikers from the brotherhood unless they return to work.

Some Firemen and Engineers out With Switchmen

(By United Press)

Chicago, April 7.—A walk out of a number of yard firemen and engineers on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad today gave a further serious turn to the strike of railroad employees here.

Officials of the Northwestern admitted some engineers and firemen had struck in sympathy with the switchmen.

"There is only a small number out, however, their places are being filled by other employees," said an official statement. Train service is only slightly affected. We expect to have their places filled by night.

Chicago Now Is Beggarless

Weary Willies are All Going to Work Certainly a Desirable Situation (United Press)

Chicago, April 7.—Where have all the beggars gone?

There aren't many any more. Higher wages and easy hours is rapidly throwing beggars, tramps and hoboes into industrial American citizens, according to observers here.

Weary Willies have also become inoculated with the work germ, and their appearance at the back door for a "hand out" is now rare.

A survey of leading citizens in the middle west show that beggars and hoboes are quitting their profession to join a salaried prosperity.

Two years ago Chicago had at least two thousand beggars, according to Chief of Detectives Mooney. "Now I doubt if we have a hundred. They are going to work. There are still a few here, but the sight of them is rare," he said.

Rodman Views Simms Attacks as Ill Advised

(By United Press)

Washington, April 7.—Admiral Wm. S. Sims' charges that the navy was unprepared when America entered the war were branded as ill advised and indiscreet attempts to "discredit the navy," by Admiral Hugh Rodman today.

Rodman, now commander of the Pacific fleet, and commander of the American battleship forces which served with the British grand fleet, during the war, was the first witness in defense of the navy.

Admiral Rodman said he was before the committee to "defend the good name of the navy."

Sims, he said, occupied a "subordinate" post at London, and possibly in his honest endeavor arrogated to his office more importance than was actually the case.

Folly to Ignore a "Cold."

The logic of colds is simple enough. Treat a cold respectfully, put it to bed for the first 24 hours, and it will retire from the scene with grace and speed. On the other hand, ignore its existence for a couple of days and it will gather such strength that soon you won't be able to think of anything else. Keep up the fight a week or so longer, going about your business as usual, and there's an even chance, in the present state of health statistics, that the cold won't be a cold any more, but will have put on the dignity of influenza. And influenza treated with contempt can show its mettle by turning into any one of a number of things that are worse, declares a writer in the New York Tribune.

Base Metals and Gold.
The idea of transporting base metals into gold seems to have had its origin, long before the birth of Christ, in Arabia, where the study of chemistry was remarkably advanced in early days. Lead has been nearly always the metal chosen—as recently, way. Mercury is the next best bet, but silver is highly recommended.

YOUNG PEOPLES CLASS

Bible Class of Swedish Baptist Church
Met on Tuesday Evening

The Young Peoples Bible class of the Swedish Baptist Sunday school had a fine and well attended meeting Tuesday evening. Rev. P. Alfred Peterson was elected teacher. The Baraga class elected Alton Thon for president, Nels Anderson, secretary and Virgil Turner, treasurer. Sigrid Lind was chosen as president of the Philathea class, Eva Johnson, secretary, Ruth Gustafson, treasurer and Elsie Hagberg, pianist. The class is to have meetings with program the first Monday of each month. Mrs. Alton Thon, Mrs. Harold Thorkildson and John Sundberg were appointed program committee. The next meeting will be held on Monday evening of May 3rd. At this meeting it is probable that a debate will be given between the Baraga and Philathea.

Another interesting feature of the evening was a happy surprise which the class sprung upon Axel J. Anderson, who will be away for a few months on a trip out west. After singing of the class song written and composed by the teacher, Rev. Peterson gave a brief presentation speech and presented Mr. Anderson, on behalf of the class, a traveling bag and a writing case, after which Mr. Anderson spoke a few words expressing his sincere thanks to the class.

John Sundberg also spoke a few words and called the attention to the noble Christian life and character of Mr. Anderson. The officers Mr. Anderson is now holding in the church work and which will be temporarily filled in his absence, are assistant superintendent of the Sunday school teacher of a junior boys class, president of Willing Workers Society, Sunday School treasurer, member of the choir and male quartet. He is also active student in the Friday evening Bible school. These studies are prized so highly that he will keep up the studies by correspondence.

Look-Wunderlich
(Marshall Messenger)

March 27, 1920, at 2:30 o'clock in the presence of twelve friends, occurred the marriage of Mr. W. E. Wunderlich of Crow Wing county, Minn., and Miss Mazie Look of Morrison county. Miss Vera H. Nelson and Mr. Verner E. Nelson attended the bridal couple. Dr. Strain said the words that made them husband and wife, using the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wunderlich left on the afternoon train for a trip to California, after which they will be at home in Crow Wing county, near Brainerd.

Bethany Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid society of the Swedish Bethany church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hjalmar Olson, 411 Fourth avenue Northeast, at 2:30 o'clock. A hearty welcome is extended to all members and friends.

Mrs. C. S. Reimstad entertained the Kard Klass on Saturday evening with music and cards. A very enjoyable time was spent by the ladies present.

Training Class

The training class of the Methodist church school will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church.

Cleanly Wild Animals

Animals, says a French savant, furnish man an example in the matter of hygiene. They were the first creatures who made use of the sponge, soap and even of the toothbrush. From time immemorial they cleaned themselves by using the tongue as a brush, their saliva as soap, their tail as a towel, their claws as a comb. Furthermore, they bathe themselves frequently.

Colonies of monkeys isolate those among them who refuse to observe the rules of cleanliness. It has been remarked that monkeys with well-cared for beards take the precaution when drinking of never letting them get wet. Chimpanzees almost invariably rinse out their mouths after eating, and a certain young orang-outang always used a toothpick.

WATCH YOUR STEP

Nothing Lost by Keeping in Mind
"Safety First."

Government Bulletin Lists Varieties of Accidents in Industries That Might Easily Be Avoided by the Exercise of Care.

Electric signs blink the slogan, "Be Careful," around the big mills. From another's apron strings to the latest newspaper the voices of safety first call "Be Careful."

Now comes the United States labor department and tells how many ways you can get hurt by falling. There are three kinds of falling: (1) Falling from a high place to the level; (2) falling from the level into a place below level; (3) falling while walking or standing on the level.

In the first classification we find all kinds of high places to fall from. In the card indexes of the safety engineers they have records of people falling from benches, boxes, chairs, tables, bridges, dams and docks, cranes, elevators, derricks, hoists—elevated bins, pockets, tanks (falls from but not falls into)—buildings in construction or demolition—floors—ladders, scaffolds, staging—boilers, engines, machines—poles, trees, roofs, runways, balconies, platforms, gangplanks, stairs and steps, tramways, trestles, windrows, walls and wall openings.

Ladders, by the way, are the worst and trickiest of all. More falls from ladders than from any other high spots are recorded. As the safety engineers classify ladder falls: (1) You hit the ground because the ladder broke or a step in the ladder went to pieces under your foot; (2) either you slipped and twisted or the ladder slipped and twisted; (3) somebody or something knocked you off the ladder; (4) or how it all happened was a mystery.

Getting into Class B, where the fall is from the level into territory not on the level, people fall into excavations, pits, shafts, bins, vats, floor openings, man-holes. If standing or moving on the level you slip or stumble, you get into Class C. A stumble, however, may be caused by fixed objects or loose objects. A sleeping dog or a hunk of pig iron may trip up the feet that do not respectfully elevate.

The number of falling objects that knock people down and get their names into the accident records are collapsing buildings, walls, scaffolds, stagings, chutes, conveyors, slides, stacked, stored or piled-up material. Also racks, shelves, machines, work benches, temporary floors, trees, ditch and trench cave-ins, mine and quarry coal, rock and ore.

Experiences with "Injuries due to scuffling, larking or horseplay" are noted in the federal labor department bulletin by Commissioner George Kingston of the workmen's compensation board of Ontario, Can. A railway porter wrenched his foot but was denied compensation because he "was larking with two young ladies" and showing them how nifty he was at jumping trains. Claims were allowed "where a Chinaman employed in a factory was the innocent victim of horseplay—blown up by hose; where a man had been teased by another workman suddenly turned in revenge and hit an innocent party; where a man about to punch the time clock was hit from behind by another workman, injured man innocent of any horseplay."

All of which gives us a hunch as to what the electric signs mean blinking late at night and early morning, "Be Careful."

I. PLANNING THE GARDEN.

Garden making time is almost here. The first thing to do in making a garden is making plans. The plans made will depend on the size of the space available for a garden. Vegetables suitable for a small garden are dwarf beans, peas, carrots, lettuce, onions, dwarf peas, radishes, spinach, tomatoes and turnips. Larger gardens should have in addition cabbage, cucumbers, cauliflower, celery, eggplant, parsley, peppers, potatoes, squash and sweet corn. (In northern Minnesota tomatoes, egg plant and peppers cannot be grown successfully.)

The plan for the sowing of such vegetables need not be elaborate. It may simply be a list of rows for the garden and the distance the rows are to be apart. It should be drawn up on heavy paper which may be handled while planting the garden. It should be remembered that in some cases two of these vegetables may be sown together, the one maturing early enough to give more room for the other, and that sometimes quick-maturing vegetables may follow in the space from which other quick-maturing vegetables have been gathered. These changes should be taken into consideration in planting the garden. —R. S. Mackintosh, Horticultural Specialist, Extension Division, University Farm, St. Paul.

"Are We Happy? I'll Say We Are!" Says
Fairbanks After Wedding Mary Pickford

Mary Pickford changed her mind. When she was granted a decree of divorce from Owen Moore on March 3 at Minden, Nev., she declared she would "never marry again." Two days after she became the bride of Douglas Fairbanks, their secret was out. They were married in Los Angeles, Cal., and now are understood to be at Fairbanks' residence in Beverly Hills. The wedding did not surprise their friends in the movie world. The film stars are planning as a honeymoon a three-months' tour of Europe by automobile. They will sail from New York May 19, expect to return by September 1 and will make their home at Beverly Hills. "Doug's" comment to interviewers when the news of the wedding became public, was: "Are we happy? I'll say we are!"

"Silly Old Fool"

Of the stories told by Mr. Port Ridge, the popular author, one of the best, perhaps, is of an incident which occurred outside a London railway station.

"I wanted a taxi," says Mr. Ridge. "A small boy ran to fetch one and came back with it, holding the handle of the door as a signal of temporary ownership. As the cab pulled up a bigger lad tried to obtain possession of the handle."

"Out of it!" ordered the young boy, aggressively. "I was the one sent to get the taxi for the silly old fool!"—he turned to me and touched his cap respectfully—"wasn't I, sir?"—London Tit-Bits.

Among Humorists.

"Ever borrow an idea?" asked the young husband.

"Among us professionals it is considered permissible to borrow back and forth," said the old timer. "However, I hope you'll avoid something a friend of mine once did, and has been sorry for ever since."

"What was that?"

"He stole a joke from a religious paper."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

The Kind of Men Nuxated Iron Helps to Make

Physician tells How Many Men Fall Just Short of Winning the $10,000 to $100,000 Positions because they Don't Back up Their Brains with the Physical Strength and Energy that Come from Plenty of Iron in the Blood

How Nuxated Iron often increases the Red Blood, Energy, and Endurance of Nervous, Weak and Run-Down Men in Two Weeks' Time.

It is the men of blood and iron who master the nerve-racking jobs. They have the strength, power and endurance to overcome obstacles and withstand the strain of long hours and hard work. They are the ones who are chosen for the big positions that pay from $10,000 to $100,000 a year and their red-blooded, tireless energy are what enable them to hold these positions and often become leading figures of industry and commercial life.

In his advice to men on how to build up their physical strength and obtain greatest success, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Department), New York, says: "The big, successful men I have met are all men who are physically strong."

If you are not as successful as you'd like to be—if you lack force and stamina—try Nuxated Iron and watch its strength-giving effect.

Its original package, see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken other iron products and failed to get results, remember that such preparations are nothing like Nuxated Iron, which is strongly recommended by many physicians and such notable men as former United States Senator, William E. Mason, and Ignace Jan Paderewski, master pianist and now Premier of Poland, and widely known women like Miss Mable McKinley, niece of late President McKinley and Mrs. James Longstreet, widow of the Civil War General.

Can you stand as much as you ever could or does extra work or loss of sleep one day wear you out the next? Are you beginning to think of yourself as getting old? Do you have off-days when you cannot think clearly, cannot master the problems and when you feel like throwing up everything and getting away from everybody? Do you feel there is something the matter with you and you do not know what? Then try taking Nuxated Iron, two six-

Do You Wish You Had

The men with the red blood and strength to get and hold the big positions of life, also get the luxuries of life. To help make men strong and red-blooded there is nothing so effective as Nuxated Iron, physicians say.

Manufacturers Note: Nuxated Iron is recommended above all other iron products. Unlike the other iron products it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the system. THE COUNCIL AND POOL ROOMS

The city council, at its meeting on Monday night, took time to pry into the morals of the city. This is as it should be. The council is selected by the people to do this task for the city. Organized pool rooms may be formed for this purpose but none can do it so effectively as those who have the power in their own hands. The mayor and the council have this power. Their using it is but an evidence of their qualifications for their task.

It has been stated, by those in a position to know, that some pool rooms have at least fostered gambling. The police, cognizant of this fact, have tried to apprehend the gamblers and bring them to trial. Evidence sufficient to convict is very difficult to secure.

The licensing of pool rooms and drinking places, gives the council the right to refuse a license if it feels that the better morals of the young men are jeopardized by granting it.

The council evidently felt the responsibility upon it for they refused to grant a license applied for Monday night, until the mayor, the city attorney and the police committee have investigated and reported upon the advisability of granting a license to those applying.

If the firm applying is found to have conducted only a legitimate business, then the council should grant the license. If the council believes that the best interests of the city could be served by refusing to grant the license, it should not be granted. The best citizenship of the city should heartily support the council in their endeavors for a clean city morally.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Telephone Hearing

St. Paul, April 7.—(United Press)—Members of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission were getting their last careful of the telephone rate problem in this state today.

Representatives of the Northwestern and Tri-State Telephone Companies were to open arguments in which they will try to show why present installation and removal charges should continue.

The litigation has been in progress since last year and thousands of words have been poured into the ears of the commissioners by both the companies and users. Many hearings have been held and practically the entire forces of the commission have been working on data.

The commissioners are expected to hand down a ruling within the next few weeks. The commission decided at the close of the war, to restore rates that were in vogue prior to the war, and gave the telephone companies a chance to show why those rates should not be re-established.

Practically every telephone company in the state has been represented in the fight to retain wartime rates, but the fight had been conducted by the two big companies—The Northwestern and Tri-State.

LETTER "R" NOT POPULAR

Many Writers Would View With Equanimity Its Complete Disappearance From the Language.

In a tract recently issued under the auspices of the Society for Pure English, Dr. Robert Bridges deprecates the practical disappearance of the letter R from the speech of southern Englishmen, according to the Manchester Guardian. Yet, some people would be disposed to regard the extinction of this letter with composure or even approval. John Aubrey, for instance, appears to have nursed a prejudice against those who sound it too prominently in their speech. In his "Lives" Aubrey minimizes on the fact that "Milton pronounced the letter R (Rhotica) very hard—a certain sign of a satirical wit."

In Germany the "equine letter" has found many enemies, who maintain that its abounding employment largely accounts for the ruggedness of Teutonic speech. Some writers have gone so far as to produce works from which it is entirely banished—a remarkably difficult feat, seeing that it figures in about 50 per cent of German words.

Two minor luminaries of the eighteenth century, Brookes and Gottlieb Burmann, wrote a number of poems from which the letter is deliberately excluded, so as to produce an atmosphere of "sweetness and light."

These facts were eclipsed by a nineteenth century author, Franz Ritter, who held the letter in aversion, though it appears twice in his own surname. He published two novels, "Die Zweiflinge" and "Lisette und Wilhelm," in which no R can be found.

Karl von Schonthau and Leo Kohn are responsible for similar works on a lesser scale.

Careful Mothers Insist on Foleys

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been used in so many homes for so many years that mothers everywhere know that this standard family medicine contains no opiates or other ingredients that are injurious to children or adults. Children like it and it does them good. For coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, H. P. Dunn.

SATISFIED WITH TWO MEALS

Roosevelt Family, While on Vacation, Decided There Should Be No Unnecessary Dish Washing.

"Practical Politics" was but one of many subjects the late Colonel Roosevelt had made his own. His many-sided common sense approached nothing without going straight to the practical heart of it. In his inimitable letters to his children the chapter, "A President as Cook," gives an example of this, remarks the New York Evening Post. The letter is from "Pine-Knot," the isolated little Virginia retreat where from time to time during their last years in the White House, and when in need of complete rest Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt repaired, taking no servants with them. After descriptions of several meals of chicken fried by the president with appetizing mention of beefsteak and cornbread, bacon and eggs, also cooked by him—all interspersed with allusions upon the Russo-Japanese war and the peace he was endeavoring to bring about—comes this: "As we found that cleaning dishes took up an awful time, we only took two meals a day, which was all we wanted." How the housewife's heart, specially in these without-a-cook-times, warms to that sentence! How true it is that "cleaning dishes" takes up "an awful time," and how practical the two-meals-a-day cure! Few families would endorse the cure, of course—it might be worse than impractical to establish it. And also, of course, the whole thing would be heresy from housewives themselves. But they relish the comfort of such distinguished sympathy.

GOAT ALWAYS GOOD FIGHTER

"Billy" Seldom Looks for a Scrap, but He Is Equal to It When Forced on Him.

"Mr. A. B. Fenwick related to me the particulars of a battle of two Indians, fifteen dogs and two horses with a Billy goat that had wandered out upon Joseph's prairie, where Cranbrook, B. C., now stands," says Dr. William T. Hornaday in his article on "The Rocky Mountain Goat at Home," in Boys' Life. "The Indians thought that with their horses and dogs (but no guns) they could capture the goat alive. The goat thought otherwise. A little later a squaw saw that they were having a bad mixup and ran out to the Indians with a rifle. One of them shot the goat. All but two of the dogs were killed on the spot, or died very shortly. It was with the greatest difficulty that the Indians saved their horses from getting punctured by those terrible little horns."

"It is on record that a full-grown grizzly bear was killed by a full-grown Billy goat while the bear was killing him. The dead bodies of the two were found only a few yards apart."

"So you see, although the goat is deliberate in thought and in action, and wise in self-preservation, when the time comes to fight he is right on the job."

Resigned to Fate.

In the early days of the war a group of optimistic young men assembled at the officers' training camp at Fort Myer, Va., with all the necessary appointments of officers, from spurs to an extra pair of field glasses. Later on, as it became necessary for the authorities to hand out little pink slips and one-way tickets home, it grew into a custom for the departing candidates to auction off his equipment.

One Saturday morning Captain Blank sold sharply to Candidate Jones of Company X:

"Mr. Jones, drill the company."

Mr. Jones stepped forth. Taking his place before the company, he was suddenly stricken dumb.

"Well," demanded the captain with a strongly rising inflection.

Jones gulped. "Wh-wh-what am I offered for my truck locker?" he stammered.—Home Sector.

A Wager Lost on Coolidge.

At a reunion a 75 man met a classmate on the campus. The latter wore a broad grin.

"What's the joke?"

"I made a wager that I could get Cal Coolidge into a five-minute conversation. I just tried it. Here's the conversation:

"Cal, I understand they're going to knock the tar out of you this election."

"Maybe."

"I hear that a spellbinder is up against you."

"Yes."

"Perhaps that will help you; you may shine by contrast."

"Perhaps so."

"I was stuck for anything more to say. I'm now going to pay the wager."

—George MacAdam in World's Work.

Steel Want General.

All around the globe there is a demand for American steel. Portuguese East Africa has extensive railroad plans, and in Siam there is a call for 32,000 tons of rails. A New York firm has contracts for $5,000,000 for office buildings and other structures in Tokyo and other Japanese cities. In Rome there is a building program for housing government employees. South American requirements are extensive.

KING ALFONSO'S FIRST SMOKE

Experience of Spanish Monarch Very Much Like That of Some American Small Boys.

King Alfonso has been telling the story of his first cigarette.

The incident, it appears, occurred immediately after he had been formally enthroned as king of Spain when attaining his majority on his sixteenth birthday.

Up to that time he had not been allowed to smoke, nor even then was the prohibition withdrawn. Nevertheless, he came to the conclusion that, as a ruling monarch, he might at least do as he liked in this respect.

Accordingly he asked his brother-in-law, the prince of Asturias, for a cigarette.

"I haven't got one," said the prince, faithful to family orders.

Then the king applied to the officer of the guard, who said solemnly:

"I regret that I do not smoke them, your majesty."

At last the young king made his way to the sentry at the palace door, who unobtrusively produced a plug of black tobacco from his trousers pocket and rolled a cigarette for his majesty, who smoked it proudly through the palace.

"It made me violently sick later on," he said in telling the story; "but I enjoyed it at the time. I felt, as I puffed and puffed that I was really and truly grown up at last."

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Tonight

There is another one of those delightfully humorous Peckham Grenville Wodehouse tales of romance and adventure at the Best Theatre today and tomorrow. It is "The Prince and Betty" with William Desmond starred in the role of the American who becomes a prince. Mary Thurman, who recently left the ranks of comedy for dramatic roles, is cast in the part of Betty.

Mrs. Wodehouse will be remembered as the co-author of "Oh, Boy!" and author of "A Damsel in Distress."

"The Prince and Betty" is one of his earlier novels and is a swift-moving, rapid-fire story in which comedy, drama and even melodrama are blended.

The plot is a unique one. A scheming money-maker plans to put the little Republic of Mervo on the map by staging a revolution and placing Prince John 111 on the throne. The publicity Mervo will get will attract people to the city and his gambling house will thrive accordingly. The heir to the throne is a penniless American, who finds his troubles beginning in earnest when he takes the "job" of Prince. The girl in the case is Betty, an American girl, who started something when she told the prince she didn't care to know a "steerer for a gambling house."

At the New Park Theatre

Victor Hugo, the author of "Les Misérables," which has been characterized as the greatest epic and dramatic work of fiction ever created or conceived, was the highest priced writer of his time.

He sold his publication rights of "Les Misérables" for 400,000 francs or about $80,000. A William Fox production of this greatest of melodramas will be shown at the New Park on April 13 and 14.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Good for the Whole Family

"Granny" Chamberlain "A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general. It must be a cough remedy that can be relied upon for all the different coughs that are so prevalent. While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The powerful convulsive cough of a large man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a large man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is the product of much thought and study to produce an ideal cough remedy. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the most delicate tissues of the throat. It acts as easily and safely on the young as on the old, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza, whooping cough and bronchitis.

POTATO GROWERS AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

F. Benz, President of Potato Growers Association of Washington, Spoke This Afternoon

HE IS POSTED IN EVERY PHASE

Talk Given in Plain Language Based on Actual Experience, Well Worth Hearing

Potato growers in the vicinity of Brainerd had the opportunity of listening to a talk at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon by F. Benz, President of the Potato Growers' Association of the State of Washington. Mr. Benz gave a similar talk at Deerwood yesterday before a very interested audience.

Mr. Benz is the largest potato grower in the state of Washington. He started his potato growing there ten years ago with a $1600 deficit, and today owns and operates a farm, employing forty hired men. Through his work and ability, he has changed the Yakima Valley in Washington from a bankrupt area to one of the most prosperous in the United States. He is well worth hearing and knows the potato game from the purchasing of the seed to the placing of it on the consumers table.

His talk, told in a fashion that everyone could understand is based on actual experience, of seed selection, standardization, varieties to grow, treatment of seed for highest results, preparations of soils, uses of sprays and fungicides, cultivation, harvesting and marketing. He is well worth hearing. His talk this afternoon at 2 o'clock is the only one he will give in Brainerd from where he will go north on the M. & I. and will stop in our county at Pequot.

HOW LONG DO YOU WANT IT?

Iron Ore Business Will Last for Centuries Unless Tonnage Tax Kills It

How long do you want the business of the mining of ore to last in Minnesota?

The first line below shows how long it will last if we have a tonnage tax; the second line shows how long it will last if we do NOT have a tonnage tax.

If iron ore is taxed differently from other property by having an additional tax, called a tonnage tax, levied upon it, the mining companies will take out the high grade ore from Minnesota as fast as they can, and then they will go to other fields for their iron ore—Brazil, Newfoundland, Cuba, New York, Alabama, Utah.

Minnesota has about a billion and a half tons of high grade ore, but it has billions upon billions of tons of low grade ore none of which will ever be mined if a tonnage tax is levied.

Which do we want—the iron ore business for 50 years only, or for centuries?

Where you stand on the tonnage tax is the answer to this question.

Join the Minnesota Fair Tax association and help beat the tonnage tax. Costs you $1. Membership drive on Tuesday, April 27.

BUILDING RUMOR STARTED IN CITY

Report that Mrs. Emma E. Forsythe, Large Realty Holder of Northeast Brainerd

TO BUILD EIGHT COTTAGES

Mrs. Forsythe Admitted Need of Homes in Brainerd, But Deplored High Costs of Same

The house and room situation in Brainerd, as in other towns, is an acute one because of shortage of both. During the war all new building was checked by federal orders.

With the conclusion of war days there has been no resumption of building of homes in Brainerd to make up for lost time in war. Some excitement swept over the city when it was rumored that Mrs. Emma E. Forsythe, large realty owner of Northeast Brainerd, intended to build eight cottages this season. The vision of eight new cottages waiting for tenants was enough to plunge eight couples into the sea of matrimony, providing the good news could be verified.

The Dispatch telephoned Mrs. Forsythe this morning and she said there was undoubtedly a demand for houses, but the present high building costs deterred her from starting on building operations. However, should building costs ever reach a reasonable level, she gave the Dispatch the impression of being ready to build and thus gain additional residents for Northeast Brainerd.

FREE CLINIC AT COURT HOUSE

A free tuberculosis clinic will be held Saturday, April 10, from 11 a. m. to noon at the court house conducted by Dr. W. L. Mattick, superintendent of the Atkinson-Crow Wing counties sanatorium at Deerwood.

COMMUNICATION

Editor of Brainerd Daily Dispatch:

It soon will be time to get busy and clean up the accumulation of the winter months and make Brainerd as clean and attractive as possible, especially during the summer months, and I am sure every property owner or tenant will do his part.

Small cities or towns look much alike but, as the traveler looks them over from an auto or train they make a different impression.

Frequently people passing through our city are heard to say what an attractive city Brainerd is. Would like to live here. The laws of our city should be kept up well and the streets should be kept clean, also alleys and so forth should be kept clean.

If we want people to be attracted to our city we must be careful of the impression we make upon them. We must try not to let slide by the little things which added together make up the appearance of our city. We want strangers to know that we are up and doing, that we have a live little city in which it is a pleasure to live and I must say it surely was a pleasure to live in Brainerd the last two or three years. That is what I mean regarding a clean city.

But we must look back and see what good work the sanitary police have done in our city.

JOHN MORRIS.

Editorial Note—In regard to growing lawns and making the city beautiful, pedestrians should be taught to confine their walking to sidewalks and not to tramping paths over lawns.

SPECIALISTS TO EXAMINE CHILDREN

Children's specialists will examine all children under 5 years of age at the children's clinic which will be given under the auspices of the Crow Wing County Public Health Association at the Citizens State Bank hall, Monday April 12th.

These children's specialists are physicians, members of the Northwestern Pediatric society, which is co-operating with the Minnesota Public Health Association to continue the work of the baby and infant welfare clinics previously conducted by the State Board of Health.

Children either sick or well will be admitted to the clinic and given complete examinations. The clinics are established for the purpose of keeping well babies well and for discovering slight physical imperfections which, if not corrected in time, might become permanent defects. The physicians in charge examine the babies to determine their condition, advise the mothers about the care and feeding of babies and young children, giving directions in particular cases, but referring all cases in need of medical attention or supervision to the local physicians. Only about 20% of all babies are perfect and during infancy, we are told, is the best time for the correction of their defects. The more common causes of trouble in children under five years of age are improper feeding, poor nutrition, diseased tonsils and adenoids, poor teeth, anemia, and enlarged glands.

No fees are charged. All mothers are cordially invited to be present and to bring children under 5 years of age.

Dryden's Defence of Foreign Words.

It is true when I find an English word significant and sounding, I neither borrow from the Latin nor any other language; but when I want at home I must seek abroad. If sounding words are not of our growth and manufacture, who shall hinder me to import them from a foreign country? I carry not out the treasure of the nation which is never to return; but what I bring from Italy, I spend in England; here it remains and here it circulates; if the coin be good, it will pass from one hand to another. I trade . . . for the enrichment of our native language. We have enough in England to supply our necessity; but if we will have things of magnificence and splendor, we must get them by commerce. . . . Therefore, if I find a word in a classic author, I propose it to be naturalized by using it myself, and if the public approve of it the bill passes.—Dryden, in "Discourse of Epick Poetry."

Captivity Shortens Lives of Animals.

Statistics tend to prove that the lives of wild beasts in captivity are much shorter than the lives of those which are at liberty, especially in the case of exotic beasts. The tiger and panther in captivity do not live more than seven or eight years, lions a little longer, hyenas five or six years, and the brown bear seven or eight, although they often reach 20 when at liberty. In captivity the white bear endures only four or five years, and the elephant, which often attains 100 when at liberty, lives only 25 to 30 years.

He Could Not Stand Straight

"I caught cold and it settled in my kidneys," writes J. C. Diamond, 2865 W. 30 St., Cleveland, O. "My back and sides were so lame and sore I could not stand straight. First Reformatory.

For a long time the underlying purpose of penal institutions was vindictive punishment. The idea of reforming criminals was of late origin and of slow growth, beginning with the treatment of juvenile offenders and extending later to the treatment of hardened criminals. The first state juvenile reformatory was established in New York in 1825, and this was followed by others a year or two later in Boston and Philadelphia. Many of the states now have reform schools for juvenile criminals and use reformatory methods in the treatment of old offenders.

FOREIGN TRADE IS TO GET ATTENTION

BUREAU OF EFFICIENCY RECOMMENDS REORGANIZATION OF ACTIVITIES.

FOR CO-ORDINATION OF WORK

Federal Body Urges Congress to Assign All United States Government Agents Stationed Abroad to the Department of State.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The federal bureau of efficiency has recommended to congress that the government's activities in the promotion of foreign trade be reorganized on the following basis:

1. That all resident foreign trade agents of the United States government stationed abroad shall be assigned to the department of state.

2. That all departments contemplating sending trade investigators or other trade agents abroad shall first confer with the secretary of commerce, who should be given full power to determine the lines of all trade investigations to be conducted in foreign countries.

3. That all government agents abroad whose work regularly or incidentally results in the collection of foreign trade information of any description, be required to send the data thus collected to the department of commerce, through the department of state, for publication and dissemination by the department of commerce or for transmission to other branches of the government service for such use as they may deem proper.

Large Savings Assured.

While it is impossible to estimate in dollars and cents just what savings would accrue to the government if the recommendations made by the bureau of efficiency are put into effect, it is safe to assume that they will amount to many thousands of dollars annually.

These savings would result from lesser office expenses and overhead charges by having all foreign resident trade agents under the control of one department of the government rather than being attached to several departments with no centralized control as at present, and by having the field and scope of all foreign trade investigations determined by one responsible government official rather than by several without regard to what is being done by other branches of the service.

Under the existing arrangement the department of state controls the consular service and the foreign trade adviser's office. The commercial attaches are accredited to the embassies and legations in the countries where they are stationed, but are entirely under the control of the department of commerce, as are also the trade commissioners. The department of state controls the information which is sent from the consular officers to the department of commerce for publication.

There is accordingly some measure of co-ordinated control between the department of state and commerce, but it still leaves the supervision of these two agencies virtually separate. The control of the other government departments and establishments that have to do with foreign trade is entirely separate, with the exception of certain general supervisory functions of the treasury department in connection with the activities of the international high commission. It would appear that the various organizations have separately obtained authority to proceed with their own programs and that this policy, or lack of a co-ordinated policy, has resulted in the present many-headed control of foreign trade.

Guard Against Complications. It is significant in this connection to note the attitude of the several departments. From time to time expressions have been given in congressional hearings as to the desirability of bringing the commercial attaches and trade commissioner services directly under the control of the state department. This measure has been urged both in the interest of centralized control as such and to guard against diplomatic complications which might arise through the independent activities and public utterances of the representatives of the department of commerce abroad. Another viewpoint frequently expressed is that all foreign trade promotion and development is of necessity diplomatic in character and therefore properly within the sphere of the department of state.

In reply to these arguments representatives of the department of commerce have maintained that the creation and establishment of the department charged to foster, promote, and develop both the foreign and domestic commerce of the country implies that it was the intention of the law to lodge the control of all the government's foreign trade activities in the department of commerce. This department also maintains that whenever other government organizations, such as the department of agriculture or the bureau of mines, send agents abroad to investigate trade and economic conditions they should, while at work in the foreign field, be so related to the department of commerce as to prevent the duplication of work or other efforts at cross purposes.

The secretary of commerce, in his reply to the senate inquiry, makes an urgent plea for the representation of his department upon all other government boards and commissions which have to do with foreign trade.

Supplying Palestine With Water. From the average yearly rainfall of 26 inches enough water could be stored up in Palestine to support a population of 15,000,000, according to James Haines, secretary of the Zionist Society of Engineers, which is laying plans for a water supply system for the Holy land as part of the restoration work necessary to make the land ready to receive the hundreds of thousands of Jews from all over the world who will emigrate there as soon as the political status of the country is cleared up.

Allowing for a 50 per cent loss through evaporation and running off, Mr. Haines has figured that the yearly rainfall over the 20,000 square miles of Palestine will provide a future population of 6,000,000 with a daily per capita supply of 2,055 gallons. The average daily consumption in New York at present is estimated at about 800 gallons per capita.

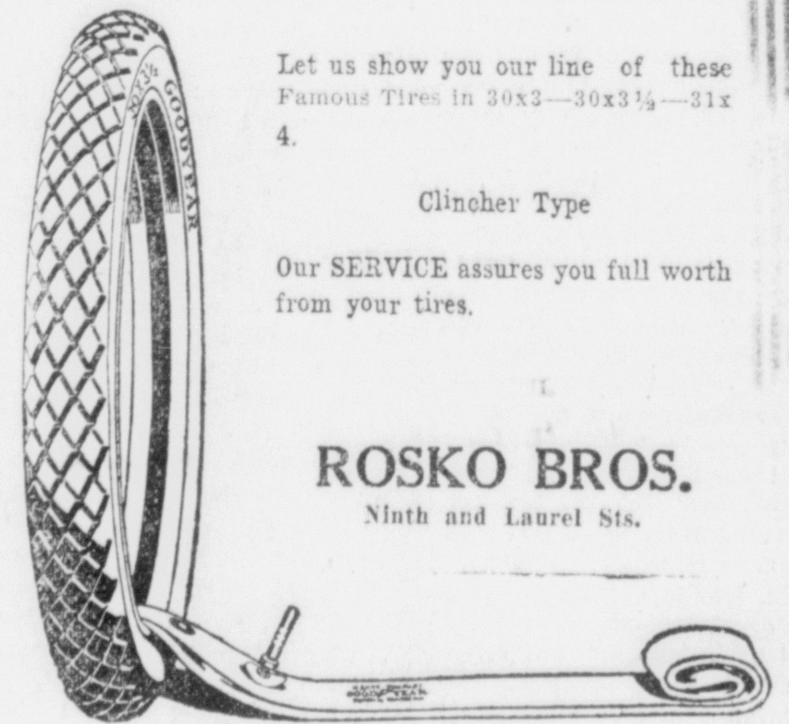

Anesthetics for Trees. The theory that trees should be treated with anesthetics to enable them to withstand the shock of transplantation has been advanced here by Sir Jagadish Chandra Bose, an Indian scientist. Sir Jagadish showed photographs of large trees which he had successfully transplanted in Calcutta in spite of their age. Realizing, he explained, that the difficulty of successful transplantation lay in the shock of removal, and that nerve effects in plants and animals were on similar lines, he treated these trees with anesthetics and they bore the uprooting and removal well.

The results of this unusual endeavor are easily available to every owner of a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or any other car requiring the sizes mentioned.

Go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer's place of business for these tires, and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. He carries them in stock.
